

ALEXANDRIA.

TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 16.

REV. DR. PENTECOST, one of Dr. Mc Glynn's followers in New York, and one of the men who assume to be labor leaders, says there is money enough in this country to give every man in it $5,000, and that the way to make every thing lovely and to improve manners, morals and taste is to let all the people work only a few of the twenty four hours, and live in comfort and leisure each day. If the reverend doctor were as familiar with his bible as he is with some other less excellent things he would know that man's preordained fate is to earn bread by the sweat of his face. His common sense should teach him that it is impossible to live in comfort on the wages of a few hours of labor. That people should talk as Dr. Pentecost does is not strange, for others have done so since the beginning of the world; but, to some, it is wonderful that in an age of free schools and cheap newspapers he should be able to find hearers.

Ir is publicly given out at the White House that the President is really so exbausted by the importunities of office seek ers that Sunday excursions and longer weekly trips are requisite and necessary for the preservation of his health. Oa the contrary, it is privately said there that so far from being an annoyance, the office seekers are a daily source of amusement to Mr. Harrison until he becomes tired, and that then he excludes them without the slightest compunction. Nebody objects to Mr. Harrison's diversions by sea or land, and no ex cure for taking them is at all necessary, but when one is assigned it should be at least Northing has been heard recently of the promised publication of a statement to the effort that au agreement was was made just before the war between the States by Senators Simon Cameron, Zach. Chandler and Banjamin Wade, to shoot any southern Senator with whom they might get into difficulty. Nearly all the southern Senators soon afterwards were fighting in the Confed erate army, but none of the three parties to the "bloody" agreement referred to ever found it convenient to put himself where he could have executed that agreement honorably, and without subjecting himself to the charge of murder.

POSTMASTER General Wanamaker, in an interview with a newspaper correspondent last Sunday, said : "You know that I am only a clerk now." Yes, and every body else knows it. In the earlier and better days of the country cabinet officers conducted their respective departments to suit tnemselves, and would not consent to act as more clerks. But Mr. Cleveland imposed that condition upon the members of his cabinet, and Mr. Harrison seems to be pretty much the same sort of man. But what sort of men must those be who accept that condition ?

ONE of the many amusing things of this amusing age is the gratuitous advice given by northern republican newspapers to the people of Virginia to support General Ma hone's proposition to settle the debt of their State on honorable terms. These same identical newspapers, a few years ago, when the Virginia democrats were trying to settle the debt on terms acceptable to the credit ors, did all they could to defeat them, and to aid General Mahone in his effort to repu diate the debt.

THE RADICALS in the British parliament, who only attained the condition of a party by means of the leadership and efforts of Mr. Gladstone, have deserted him because he refused to go to the extreme length they desired. Mr. Gladstone, being well versed in history, should not be at all surprised at this. The wonder is that, being so versed, he should have espoused the radical cause without burning the bridges behind him, and without the determination of heading a rev-

If what the militia referred to are taught at their encampments be to act as they do when they attend Presidential inaugurations at Washington and dential inaugurations at Washington and the leaving the house, the leaving the house, the leaving the house to act as they do when they have to act as they have to act as they do when they act as they centennia! shows at New York, many people think Pennsylvania might as-well save the expense of such encampments or devote the money spent thereon to better pur-

Ex Congressman Horn of Michigan, a leading republican of his State, thinks the services he has rendered his party ill requited by the offer of the Valparaiso consulate. He therefore spurns that offer and will not join Mr. Patrick Eagan, the American minister to Chili, but will be heard from at the next national republican convention.

FROM WASHINGTON

[Special Correspondence of the Alexa, GAZETTE] WASHINGTON, D. C., July 16, 1889. H. B. Littlepage, of King William county, Va., has been employed by Secretary Tracey to assist in the preparation of the naval record of the civil war. Mr. Littlepage was recommended for such work under the late administration, for special aptitude, but his administration, it is peculiar appointment has just been made. Mr. Littlepage was an officer on the famous Confederate ram Merrimack. His salary is

$1,800 and necessary traveling expenses. Mies McIlbaney, a grand-daughter of Gov. Dudlay, of North Carolina, has just been re-moved from her place in the Patent Office, to which she was appointed under the civil service rules. Her friends, who inquired of the Commissioner of Patents the cause of ber removal, were informed that it was her inefficiency. Such a reason was so remarkable that they went to the chief of her division, who told them she was one of the most efficient clerks under him, and that he would like to have her reinstated. The more that is known about the civil service law, the more reason people have for demanding its repeal.

General Mahone's two committees, one to fix the time and place of holding his State convention, and the other nominally to consult with the executive committee of the national republican committee about a settlement of the differences in the republican party in Virginia, but really to get the latter committee to endorse General Mahone, will meet at Chamberlin's here at noon tomorrow. All the members of both committees will be present, and it is understood that many other prominent members of the Mahone wing of the party will also be around. Mr. Lyon, formerly of Petersburg, who once had a personal difficulty with General Mahone, has been employed by Col. Brady to assist him as counsel in the case of Prof. Langeton, colored, who is contesting Mr. Venable's seat in Congress from the Petersburg district.

The President is expected back to-morrow but his Euglish private secretary, Mr. Halford, says he does not know at what hour. The office seekers, most of whom have be come impecunious by long waiting, are very much put out by the President's numerous and prolonged absences.

The following changes in the 4th class postoffices of. Virginia were made to-day: Belmont, Spottsylvania county, Charles R. Peake, appointed postmaster vice Ella M. Graves, removed; Cedar Point, Page county, J. F. P. Goode, vice Geo. M. Keyser, resigned; Hope Mills, Page county, A. P. Presgraves, v'cz Jac. R. FREAKS OF LIGHTNING .- During a storm last Saturday evening lightning struck the house of H. A. Carner, of Spotsylvania county, almost completely wrecking it. The lightning first struck the north end of the house at the top, and, passing down, tore off every vestige of weather boarding. It then ran down the stove pipe into the parlor, where Mrs. Carner, was sitting with a young child in her lap, both of whom were stunned. From the parlor it ran to the dining-room, completely demolishing the table, setting the curtain on fire, and destroying a number THE PENNSYLVANIA militia are now in of household articles. From the dining set of knitting needles, completely melted which was attached from the house to a shivered. There were eight people in the house at the time, but none were killed, although all were stranged. although all were stunned.

FELL DOWN A WELL .- A 2-year-old child and Wm. M. Ritchie. of Wm. Hogan, of Newportsville, Bucks county, Pa., had a remarkable escape from drowning in a 40 foot well on Sunday afternoon. In the cover of the well is a trap through which butter was lowered into the well to keep it cool. This trap was carelessly left open, and the youngster fell into the water, forty feet below. Mr. Hogan saw the child disappear and immediately burg to day. About one hundred delegates are expected to attend, slid down the rope in time to save him from gates to the Virginia democratic convention in favor of Col. P. W. McKinney for Governor.
